by Tawiah M'Carthy and Brad Cook

A story about coming of age and rites of passage; a universal idea told through the bodies of two young men, one from Canada and the other from Ghana...

... Blue Bird tells the story of a father riddled with guilt over the accidental death of his best friend. Twenty-five years later, upon his death, he employs his only son to right his wrong by traveling to Ghana to find the son of his late best friend.
